Payment

The Cheeky Monkey believes that authors and artists should be paid for their work. We pay one dollar per published poem, one dollar for published artwork, and three dollars for published short story (it won't make you rich, but it's a start☺). If your work is chosen for publication we will contact you for your complete mailing information so that payment can be sent to you. For international entries; payment will be made in USD via an American bank check, unless you notify us of your wish to be paid via PayPal.
